LETTER FROM THE CEO

Let me begin with a simple thank you for your investment in Community LINC. Because of your support, we are able to transform the lives of those we serve. Since our inception nearly 35 years ago, we have been developing programs to help homeless and at-risk households become stable, permanently housed neighbors.

In 2019, we expanded our impact and served the most people in our history.

Through our core programming as well as our efforts as the largest access point for the homeless seeking connection to services and resources, we touched more households.

We envision a Kansas City as the first large city in the nation to end homelessness. We believe since we have the housing resources and with the continued support of our community, we can create homes for all Kansas Citians desiring one. We are committed more than ever to build a community free of homelessness.

Going into 2020, we were challenged already to expand and intensify our work before the pandemic hit. Unfortunately,

Kansas City has experienced a steady raise of homelessness for the past three years. Now, the novel coronavirus invaded our community placing more fragility on already vulnerable households coupled by placing new families in precarious situations.

I think we would agree that this COVID-19 experience is one that we will never forget and unsure about its continued impact. As we look toward our post-corona future, uncertainly befalls all of us especially the well-being of our most financial and housing insecure neighbors.

Homelessness is opportunistic and insidious. Just consider the obstacles many are currently experiencing – job loss, illness, potential evictions and mounting utility arrears. Imagine being one of the thousands of people that remain homeless in Kansas City today. Our work has already increased in ways unrivaled.

This pandemic is an opportunity for us to re-think and re-imagine our community and our priorities. We know that when we come through this, we'll be stronger, wiser, and more committed to a compassionate community. Now more than ever a post-pandemic Kansas City can be a city - a place, a home, a community for everyone.

TIDAL WAVE

Looking back at 2019, we ended the year with an eager resolve to end homelessness in our community.

This was a goal we felt was finally achievable since opening our doors nearly 35 years ago! For the first time in our history, we had a clear line of sight to end homelessness in Kansas City. We believed if we all worked together, we could be the first large city to do so. We started the New Year ready to forge ahead with our partners to make this vision a reality.

Today, only a few months later, the story is entirely different. The pandemic has claimed many lives and paralyzed our economy. Because of our work on the front lines of homelessness, we already know what's next. We are experiencing an unstoppable tidal wave of need never experienced before.

Unemployment claims have skyrocketed. Sadly, we are receiving calls from parents who are scared. Parents like Karney, a hard worker but earned less than $25,000 a year, found herself in uncharted territory for the first time in her life.

Karney mumbled through tears as she pleaded for help. Employed at the same company for five years, she was making thirteen dollars an hour. She was barely making expenses but managed to get by. In February, her company decreased her hours to 30 hours a week causing her to fall behind financially.

In March, the company shut its doors and Karney was let go. Her kids have been out of school and she still has not received her first unemployment check.

Frustrated and scared, Karney explained that she called every number possible and no one could help. She only had $100 in her bank account and a few days before the moratorium on her eviction is up.

She has no idea what to do, or what to tell her children.

These are the calls that drain our hearts. Unfortunately, we get too many calls like Karney's every day. Some are already homeless, and many are on the brink, anxious and scared wondering what is next. We fear it's only just started.

Our April fundraiser, a large portion of our spring revenue, was canceled. Foundations have significantly decreased or halted funding and corporate giving is down.

In fact, some of our long-standing supporters are calling us requesting help for some of their employees who are now homeless or vulnerable. Chances are many of you may know someone who has been impacted by this pandemic.

The needs are increasing, and at a time when it is needed most, the financial support to our agency has drastically decreased.

Without adequate funding, many within our community will find themselves with no place to go. As the unemployment numbers continue to increase, so will homelessness. Our goal is to prevent that from happening by helping as many families as possible. As a result, we need your help now more than ever.

If you are able, please consider making a donation today. Your support is especially meaningful given what we are facing, a crisis we never expected to see in our lifetime.

As we hope for brighter days, we are humbled and grateful for any support you can provide.

Homeless families are often hidden in plain sight living in shelters, motels, cars, campgrounds, or doubled up in apartments, risking eviction for the leaseholder.

OUR VOLUNTEERS

Community LINC’s volunteers donate their time and talents to provide services instrumental to our programs success. Here are a few of our 2019 heroes.

Michelle Moxley
Children’s Program & Office
Support

Michelle has been with Community LINC for almost four years! We are grateful for her dedication, positive attitude and willingness to help with our greatest need each night.

“I enjoy the children’s program and this helps the parents to attend programs to help themselves. Community LINC is a meaningful and successful program that is helping many families get back on their feet. I feel that I have done something for someone else after helping out in either place, and that makes me feel great.”

Ratana Tshibanda
Apartment Decorators

For a few years, Ratana has served with a group of dedicated apartment preppers that create welcoming homes for our families.

“Community LINC provides me a unique opportunity to not only donate items or money but the added gratification of transforming bare, empty spaces to cheerful and comfortable homes for parents and their children. I love knowing that families will have a warm and safe place to call home.

That’s a mission that I enjoy sharing my resources and time to support.”

Thomas More
Maintenance

Thomas is still pretty new to us, but has made a big impact. Taking care of our facility is a large task and Thomas has become invaluable.

While studying and applying for med school, Thomas still finds time to visit once a week for a few hours and lend a hand painting, hanging blinds and other tasks that make Community LINC a home.

“After being exposed to communities in need while growing up, I find it to be my responsibility to help those who have received fewer resources.”

OPENING DOORS

The mission of Community LINC is to end homelessness in Kansas City for this generation and the next. In 2019, Community LINC continued opening doors to home fullness by offering housing, programs and other critical services for many in Kansas City.

No, home fullness is not a word you find in the dictionary; yet, it describes the joyful state of those whom the alternative was a challenge they worked hard to overcome.

We experienced a year of incredible impact on the lives of fellow Kansas Citians. On a high note, we increased the number of people helped in their quest for home fullness. Housing and programming were provided to 117 households, which included over 300 children. Another 686 households were assessed to help match needs with available community services. Furthermore, 259 nights of hotel shelter were provided to households with no other place to go. On a low note, there are so many more that need our help.

Rather than seeing the eradication of homelessness, the news is filled with increasing numbers of people, including children, being forced from their homes due to job loss, health challenges or the inability to afford the rising costs of housing versus wages that are not keeping pace. There have even been articles on homeless college students, living out of their cars unable to afford housing! Homelessness affects people of all ages and backgrounds. Given the misfortune of an employment or health setback, it can happen to any of us. Community LINC exists to open doors for those who need help with getting past some rough periods in their lives. In 2020, Community LINC will continue moving forward with providing essential services to those needing a hand-up in achieving self-suf ficiency and home fullness. Additionally, we will advocate the need for affordable housing and work with fellow community organizations to identify and help those who need just a little bit of support to avoid homelessness. This latter focus is a productive outcome for those we serve, both financially and emotionally.

As we expand our reach and impact in our community, we face financial challenges. The number of people we help has grown steadily, yet our funding has not. We cannot continue to make a meaningful impact without sufficient means. It is a challenge we will look to our community to help address.

On behalf of our Board of Directors, thank you for your ongoing support and commitment to Community LINC. You have been important partner in our success and we look forward to your continued help with opening doors and keeping them open to home fullness for all Kansas Citians!
